

Amount: $2,000

Eligibility: Completed 45 semester credit hours by June 1, 2019 in an accredited undergraduate engineering or land surveying degree program within the upper Midwest. Preference will be considered for those in an electrical, civil, environmental or agricultural engineering program.

Have a minimum 3.0 composite collegiate GPA.

Deadline: May 15, 2019. Deadline for receipt of applications. Application is available at dgr.com/2019-scholarship-application or by submitting this pdf version via email to dgr@dgr.com (or by using the Submit button). Award is made annually and will be announced 60 days after deadline.

Name _____
(last) (first)

Home Address _____
(street) (city) (state) (zip code)

College Address _____
(street) (city) (state) (zip code)

Phone Number _____ Email Address _____

College _____ College Graduation Date _____

Cumulative College Grade Point Average (GPA) _____ Credits Earned to Date _____

In which field of engineering are you currently enrolled? _____

List your college and community extra-curricular activities with offices held (design projects, clubs, societies, intramurals, church, etc.):

Special Recognition and Awards and Other Scholarships received for upcoming year:

Work Experience: (A Resume may be attached if available)

Enter the percentage breakdown of your total education financing by source:

_____ % Grants _____ % Scholarships _____ % Employment _____ % Parents
_____ % Work Study _____ % Loans _____ % Other (identify) _____

Rank the regions in which you would most enjoy working after you graduate: (1=most favorable..... 5=least favorable)

_____ East _____ West _____ Midwest _____ South _____ Outside of U.S.

In 100 words or less address the following question:

What are your professional goals and how do you see yourself impacting the engineering profession?

Attach transcripts from all colleges attended to date (Unofficial transcripts are acceptable.)

The DGR Scholarship Committee oversees the administration of the DGR Scholarship. The Committee requests this information for the sole purpose of awarding this annual scholarship and no persons outside of the Committee and DGR Executive Board are routinely provided this information. If you fail to provide the requested information, the Committee may not consider your application.

Print Name: _____ Date: _____

Applications forms must be submitted electronically via email to dgr@dgr.com (or by using the Submit button.)